Evaluating the Usability, Efficacy and Commercial Utility of a Digital Platform to Deliver Comprehensive Treatment for Opioid Use Disorder

The purpose of this research is to complete the development and assess the usability of the mobile platform and the feasibility of enrolling and retaining participants into treatment for opioid use disorder (OUD) via telehealth.

Role: Consultant (9/1/20-2/28/21); Principal Investigator (10/1/2019-8/23/2020)

Beta Zeta Chapter of Sigma Theta Tau International Research Grant 2017-2018 $1,400

Transgender Identity, Sibling Relationships, and Mental Health

Role: Principal Investigator

Beta Zeta Chapter of Sigma Theta Tau International Research Grant 2014-2015 $2,000

Parental Rejection of LGBT Youth: Role of Family Cohesion, Religious Emphasis and Fundamentalism

Evaluating the Feasibility and Acceptability of Mindful Self-Compassion Among Gender Minority Young Adults

The objective for this proposal is to obtain further training in intervention science (implementation, evaluation, and adaptation), trauma-informed mindfulness, advanced qualitative analysis, and to become trained and certified as mindful self-compassion teacher. The 8-week mindful self-compassion (MSC) intervention and data collection plan (baseline, weekly, post-intervention and 3-month follow-up) will be tested for feasibility and acceptability among five consecutive groups of transgender and nonbinary young adults ages 18-25. Integrative Multimodal Approach for Opioid Overdose-Related Grief

The purpose of this project is to investigate the feasibility and acceptability of a 12-week remotely delivered, integrative, multimodal approach to support three specific groups of bereaved individuals who lost a loved one to opioid overdose death (OOD): parents, parents who are also caring for someone else with problematic opioid use, and contemporaries (e.g., siblings, partners). We will conduct a national, remotely delivered randomized controlled trial, recruiting online from a single-site and enrolling adults bereaved by OOD loss (N=70), randomized to either a 12-week integrative multimodal approach (n=42) or a standard, app-based grief education (n=28). The primary aim of the RCT is to measure acceptability of both interventions and the secondary aims are to evaluate the feasibility of remotely recruiting a diverse, national sample with appropriate levels of intervention completion and data collection for both arms. Role: Consultant

Family Environment, Minority Stress, and Mental Health Among Transgender Youth

The purpose of this study is to understand the relationship between cumulative gender identity-related discrimination and rejection (distal stress) and the ways in which that stress is internalized (proximal stress) within the context of family functioning and mental health of transgender youth, as well as to describe the experiences of caregivers coming to accept a child's transgender identity utilizing longitudinal mixed methods data collected over two years.

Johnson & Johnson Nurses Innovate QuickFire Challenge on Mental Health

The purpose of the proposed project is to evaluate the feasibility of leveraging transgender individuals' everyday interactions with a consumer app for documenting sociomedical gender transition (Transcapsule®) to begin to prospectively understand long-term mental health trajectories of TG people engaging in gender affirming therapies.
